*¹Minimum Income Floor

- The minimum income floor is an assumption that, after an initial set up period of 12 months, a person who is self-employed works for a specific number of hours for a set wage. Where this assumed income exceeds the actual income, we use the assumed income to calculate entitlement to LCTS. We request annual income and review annually. Where annual figures are not available we accept whatever can be provided for a shorter period of time, and make a note to review this sooner. Our minimum income floor increases in line with the minimum wage in place on 1 January of the scheme year. Claimants that are disadvantaged by the rule can apply for help from the Discretionary Hardship Fund.
- We have not had a lot of queries since introducing the minimum income floor. We would expect significant issues to materialise through requests for help from the Discretionary Hardship Fund or via difficulties with Council Tax collection, and this has not been the case.
- During 2017 Surrey Welfare Rights provided feedback on the way our scheme worked compared to Universal Credit (UC), especially regarding carers and the disabled who were self-employed. In response, we looked more closely at these cases and concluded that:
 - the numbers affected are small as claimants need to satisfy multiple criteria: be carers and self-employed working for less than 35 hours per week on less than the minimum wage.
 - we have a satisfactory mechanism in place through our Hardship Fund to ensure that no one suffers financially
 - a further review of our scheme was likely with the roll out of UC and that it was appropriate to consider Surrey Welfare Rights suggestions at that time
- Universal Credit uses a minimum income floor, with some modification where claimants are disabled or carers. This has not been without criticism. On 10 May 2018 the House of Commons Work and Pensions Committee published a report “Universal Credit: supporting self-employment”. This looks at the difficulties of balancing support for entrepreneurship with protecting the public purse. The minimum income floor is intended to incentivise the self-employed to increase their earnings and develop their business, while ensuring that the Government does not subsidise unsustainable low-paid self-employment indefinitely. It highlighted some issues:
 - The DWP has no plans to publish any significant analysis of UC’s effect on self-employment until at least autumn 2019.
 - The DWP calculates UC awards monthly, but the self-employed have volatile incomes and the result is that they do not receive the same help as the employed. The report suggests longer reporting periods of up to a year where claimants demonstrate irregular payment patterns.
 - For the first year of self-employment claimants are exempt from the minimum income floor. The report suggests that in some instances this period should be extended and that a taper off could also be used.
- We will consider our treatment of the self-employed when we carry out our more fundamental review of the scheme.

*²Payments from the Discretionary Hardship Fund are:

- means tested (an assessment of income and expenditure)
- awarded for a maximum of one year at a time
- not usually for more than 75% of any Council Tax Benefit lost
- not awarded if non-essential expenditure exceeds the loss of Council Tax Benefit incurred
- not backdated.
